Author: Aisha Qadi – PhD Student – Centre for Higher Education Research Scholarship (CHERS)

Seconder: Nico Henry (Union President)

Decision(s): To approve

Union Notes

1. Bye-Law F defines the roles, responsibilities, and governance expectations of the Officers of the Union, including the Officer Trustees, President, Deputy Presidents, Council Chair, and other senior elected roles.
2. Collectively, these roles are responsible for the strategic leadership, governance, and representation of Imperial College Union.
3. Union Council and the Board of Trustees approved the current version of Bye-Law F in December 2025.
4. Since this update, several areas have been identified where further clarification would strengthen its operation in practice.
5. These areas include role descriptions, governance and transparency expectations, and arrangements relating to delegation, vacancies, line management, and the collective responsibility of the Officer Trustees.

Union Believes

1. Bye-Law F should clearly reflect both the constitutional responsibilities of Officers of the Union and the way officer leadership functions in practice.
2. Greater clarity within the Bye-Law would support stronger governance and clearer accountability across the Officer team.
3. Refining the wording of Bye-Law F would improve consistency, reduce ambiguity, and better support officers in understanding their roles and responsibilities.
4. These amendments would help ensure that Bye-Law F more accurately reflects the practical operation of officer roles and responsibilities across the Union.

Union Resolves

1. To approve the proposed amendments to Bye-Law F as outlined in the appendix.
